

R. Mac Prout

R. Mac Prout is the Managing Attorney of the Sacramento office of Borton Petrini, LLP. He received his undergraduate degree from Pepperdine University in 1978 with Majors in both History and Communications (Magna Cum Laude). He obtained his Juris Doctor in 1981 from Pepperdine University and was admitted to the California State Bar the same year.

Following graduation from law school he worked with a law firm that stressed trial counsel training with the primary emphasis being the defense of health care related cases and high risk sports. This emphasis led to the opportunity of appellate work in both specialties and the publication of an Appellate case related to waiver releases in a California.

Mac has over 35 years of legal experience, and became a member of the American Board of Trial Attorneys having completed over 40 trials as lead counsel. Over the past three decades Mac has tried numerous catastrophic injury cases which included cases dealing with medical malpractice, employment law, high risk sports, public entities, automobile liability, premises liability, and appellate issues.

In 1986, Mac relocated from Southern California to Sacramento, California to open an office for a Southern California Law firm with the emphasis of expanding the practice throughout Northern California. In 1991, Mac formed his own law firm and continued to provide services for multiple insurance carriers and private companies from San Diego to the Oregon border.

This resulted in defending and trying numerous cases throughout most of the counties in Northern and Southern California, which included catastrophic burn cases, medical malpractice matters, trucking accidents, wrongful death matters, products liability, employment matters, extended care facilities and sports and leisure cases involving catastrophic injuries.

Mac currently lives in Sacramento close to his two daughters, two granddaughters and his 93 year father who continues to work actively as a minister throughout Northern California
